information production, discovery, and access. Their goal in establishing these priorities is to increase transparency and to communicate the University's values and expectations for licensed resources to our stakeholders and vendors.

In keeping with these values University Libraries have identified qualities that our resources should embody:

- Accessibility: Provide equitable access to information for all library users. The Libraries prioritize acquisition of materials with a demonstrated commitment to web accessibility, universal design principles, and optimizing end-user experiences.
- Affordability: Reduce subscription costs to a sustainable level. Recognize the limitations on campus budgets and lack of funding from the state of Wyoming. The Libraries negotiate fair and sustainable prices for resources and services based on transparent and cost-based pricing models.
- Preservation: Ensure long-term digital preservation and accessibility of content through partnerships with trusted digital archives. Offer perpetual access rights to purchased content.
- Privacy and Security: Preserve users' right to privacy, ensure data security, and prevent unauthorized use of user data. The right to free inquiry as assured by the First Amendment depends upon the ability to read and access information free from scrutiny by the government or other third parties. Libraries have an ethical obligation to protect user privacy and confidentiality.
- Scholarly Sharing: Allow the ability to borrow and lend between libraries (interlibrary loan, or ILL), including the ability to lend whole ebooks and other digital content in their entirety. An active academic community needs the ability to share information in order to engage in scholarly discourse and collaborative research and learning. ILL is an established practice in libraries and essential to supporting research in digital and print formats.
- Transparency: Eliminate license terms or practices, such as non-disclosure or confidentiality clauses, that are counter to our obligations as a state institution and limit our ability to release information that could create more equitable or transparent pricing. Vendors should share usage statistics and information about affiliated authors, editors, and publications, and article processing charge payments.

AUTHENTICATION: The foregoing Faculty Senate Resolution 447, as amended, duly adopted by the Faculty Senate of the University of Wyoming under date of November 27, 2023, is hereby transmitted to the President of the University of Wyoming for review in accordance with UW Regulations.
