UNIVERSITY OF WYOMING

September 29, 2006

The Honorable Cynthia Lummis
Wyoming State Treasurer
200 W. 24th Street
Cheyenne, WY 82002

Dear Cynthia:

Under cover of this letter and in the following pages of the University of Wyoming's 2006 Annual Report, I am pleased to submit to you, the Governor, and all members of the Wyoming Legislature, the annual reports required under:

W.S. 21-16-903 – University of Wyoming Endowment Matching Program
W.S. 21-16-1003 – University of Wyoming Athletic Facilities Matching Program
W.S. 21-16-1403 – University of Wyoming Academic Facilities Matching Program

This is the sixth annual report covering the Endowment Matching program, the third annual report for the Athletic Facilities Matching program, and the first annual report for the Academic Facilities Matching program. Without a doubt, the University of Wyoming has experienced and continues to experience outstanding private support that is in large measure the result of the confidence that our state elected officials and the Wyoming Legislature have in this institution. In each section of this report – the Academic Facilities Match, the Athletic Facilities Match, and the Endowment Matching Program – you will find examples of our donors' generosity, as well as with detailed financial information.

Please accept my personal thanks for the continued confidence expressed in the University of Wyoming through these matching fund programs. I want to assure you that they have not only strengthened UW as an institution, but they have directly benefited our students and generated returns for all Wyoming's citizens. We look forward to them growing with the continued mutual support of Wyoming's policymakers and our generous donors.

Sincerely,

Thomas Buchanan
President

MAKING A DIFFERENCE

The Impact of the State Matching Funds Programs

at the

UNIVERSITY OF WYOMING

In March of 2001 when the first $30 million dollar endowment matching funds program was implemented by the Wyoming State Legislature nobody could have predicted the phenomenal impact these dollars were going to have on the University of Wyoming. Indeed, there were those who doubted that UW donors would step up to meet the “matching challenge” set forth by the Legislature, a program that gave UW donors the opportunity to have all endowed gifts meeting a minimum of $50,000 matched dollar for dollar by state funds. The legislation for the endowment match gave UW five years to raise the support needed to secure the full $30 million. UW supporters not only met this challenge head on, they did it in half the time allocated and the first pool of funds was secured in just under two and one half years.

Following the success of the matching funds challenge, in March of 2004 the Wyoming State Legislature allocated an additional $18 million to continue the endowment program and implemented a new matching program for Athletics Facilities to match dollar for dollar gifts meeting a $25,000 minimum requirement. This second allocation of funds was fully secured in fourteen months. With this type of historical success, in March of 2006 the Legislature further supplemented the endowment program with another $25 million, the Athletics Facilities program with an additional $6 million, and created a new matching program for Academic Facilities with an initial fund of $9 million to match dollar for dollar gifts meeting the same $25,000 minimum established for the Athletic Facilities program.

The success of the State of Wyoming/University of Wyoming matching funds program is historical....

ENDOWMENT MATCHING PROGRAM

Since March of 2001, the Wyoming State Legislature has committed a total of $73 Million in matching funds for the Endowment Matching Program. Of those funds, to date:

- ✓ $52,414,630 has been secured through donor commitments;
- ✓ $43,253,383 of those commitments have been paid in by donors and;
- ✓ $42,383,441 of the matching dollars have been received by UW

These dollars benefit a variety of UW areas; Endowed Scholarships (155 Scholarship funds have been created or supported), Endowed Chairs & Professorships (9 new Chairs and 4 New Professorships created as well as support for existing positions), Excellence Funds (27 new Excellence Funds created), Research Funds, Speaker & Lecture Series Funds, Fellowships, and areas across campus that are as diverse as the more than 180 programs of study UW offers throughout our seven colleges and the vast array of cultural resources and programs offered here at UW and through the outreach program across the State.

ATHLETIC FACILITIES MATCHING PROGRAM

The Wyoming State Legislature has committed a total of $16 Million in matching funds for the Athletic Facilities Matching Program. Of those funds, to date:

- ✓ $12,606,955 has been secured through donor commitments;
- ✓ $5,541,528 of those commitments have been paid in by donors and;
- ✓ $5,277,278 of the matching dollars have been received by UW

These dollars are fully committed for the Athletic facilities needs as detailed in UW's Athletic Strategic Plan adopted by the UW Trustees in September of 2003. With a vast array of needs to be addressed, UW's athletic donors have been exceptionally flexible in designating their support, with only a small amount of the $12+ million in commitments designated to target specific areas.

The $12+ million to date commitments made are designated as follows:

- $11,113,868.40 – Athletic Facilities Unrestricted by Donor (area of greatest need)
- $793,750.00 – War Memorial Stadium Enhancements
- $500,000.00 – Louis S. Madrid Sports Complex (Outdoor Track)
- $62,686.48 – Wrestling Facilities
- $56,250.00 – Indoor Practice Facility
- $42,900.00 – Memorial “8” Challenge Account (Outdoor Track)
- $37,500.00 – Covered Tennis Courts

ACADEMIC FACILITIES MATCHING PROGRAM

The Wyoming State Legislature has committed a total of $9 Million in matching funds for the Academic Facilities Matching Program. Of those funds, to date:

- ✓ $3,564,070 has been secured through donor commitments;
- ✓ $1,964,070 of those commitments have been paid in by donors and;
- ✓ $1,964,070 of the matching dollars have been received by UW

This new matching opportunity for UW alumni and friends is being exceptionally well received. UW anticipates that the entire fund will be committed by the end of calendar year 2006.

The $3.5+ million to date commitments made are designated as follows:

- ✓ $2,000,000 College of Engineering
- ✓ $800,000 Undesignated yet by donor;
- ✓ $764,069 – Kendall House at IENR
(Institute for Environment & Natural Resources)

PRESIDENT TOM BUCHANAN'S

Academic Facilities Matching Funds
Recommendations for approval as presented to the University of Wyoming Trustees

(The following 7 documents are excerpted from the UW Trustees work book for their July 5, 2006 session)

Academic Facilities Matching Proposals

The enabling legislation for academic facilities matching funds requires that the Trustees approve any projects for which matching funds are authorized. It is impractical to work with potential donors on the possibility of a matchable gift if Trustee approval of the project is uncertain. By establishing a list of approved projects for possible matching funds, UW's academic leaders can work more effectively with donors to advance specific projects.

The appended table and text provide an overview of projects for which the Office of Academic Affairs requests Trustee approval for use of the state matching fund for academic facilities. Actual use of the matching funds will depend, in addition, on (a) the availability of a gift of an appropriate size, (b) verification that the project is both eligible for matching under state statute and technically feasible within the available budget, and (c) the availability of matching funds remaining in the $9 million pool established by the 2006 Legislature.

The request for approval for matching funds is not intended:

- to identify precise cost projections for the projects,
- to establish University capital construction priorities or schedules,
- to commit the University to building any of these facilities using other University resources to provide necessary funding, or
- to authorize construction of any of the projects.

For all projects of this type, facility planning and design, development of a final project budget, and the hiring of construction contractors will remain subject to regular University processes, including Trustee approval of hiring contractors. Construction scheduling will be hinge on the availability of full funding for a project as well as on normal logistical considerations. Some of these projects have already been identified in the University's capital facilities plan, and some of the projects listed may end up being funded partially or completely through substantial state capital construction funding, requested through the state budget process, consistent with the capital facilities plan.

The total amount of state funding available for matching for academic facilities is $9 million. The University will accept commitments for donations for these approved projects only until the amount appropriated by the state is fully subscribed.

Prior Related Board Discussions/Actions: None

WHY THIS ITEM IS BEFORE THE TRUSTEES:

Legislation requires that the Trustees approve any projects to be matched from the fund.

ARGUMENTS IN SUPPORT: Trustees approval will provide latitude to pursue matchable gifts with a wide variety of potential donors.

ARGUMENTS AGAINST: None.

ACTION REQUIRED AT THIS BOARD MEETING:

Approval or disapproval of the list.

PRESIDENT'S RECOMMENDATION: The President recommends approval.

BRIEF DESCRIPTIONS

EnCana Research Laboratories for Chemical and Petroleum Engineering

The EnCana Research Laboratory, made possible by a $2 million gift from EnCana and $2 million in matching dollars from the State of Wyoming, will include the CT Scanning Laboratory which will house the most advanced equipment available for measuring and analyzing three phase flow in oil and gas reservoir cores, as well as enhance other research capabilities. EnCana will pay out the gift over five years. The laboratories will support research in chemical and petroleum engineering and give students hands on experience with state-of-the-art equipment. The facilities will house advanced equipment, including a CT scanner that utilizes high energy x-rays to visualize the pore fluids in a core. The CT Scanner laboratory must include a lead-lined room within a laboratory, to isolate the CT scanner and its high-energy x-rays. The laboratory modifications will also require special electric power features and air conditioning to dissipate heat generated by the x-ray source. The remainder of the laboratory space will require installation of a fume hood, compressed air, additional electrical service, and a purified water station. Other laboratory space will also be enhanced.

Kendall House

William D. Ruckelshaus Institute board member and long-time UW supporter Donald Kendall made a gift of $ 764,069 on October 18, 2005, allowing UW to retain and renovate the Verna J. Hitchcock House for use as offices and meeting space for the Haub School and Ruckelshaus Institute of Environment and Natural Resources. The gift will rename this historic university building as the Bim Kendall House, in honor of Mr. Kendall's wife. Over $300,000 of Mr. Kendall's gift was used to purchase the building, and the remaining portion will be used to upgrade the electrical and telecommunications; replace outdated and inefficient windows, boiler, and other components; comply with ADA accessibility requirements; and update the interior. In keeping with the values and mission of our program, UW is planning a "green" renovation that maximizes energy efficiency and minimizes pollution while maintaining the historic integrity of this unique building. The possibility of doubling Mr. Kendall's gift through the facilities matching fund would allow the construction to accommodate longer-term needs. With approximately $1.52M, UW would be able to add new classroom space, a small meeting room, and office space for distinguished visitors, to accommodate anticipated growth in the program.

Cheney Center for International Affairs

This project will enable the remodeling of part of the existing Student Health Building to accommodate the co-location of International Programs, the International Students and Scholars Office, and other services related to UW's internationalization efforts. Funding will come from a gift provided by the family of Vice President Cheney. The $2 million cost estimate is very preliminary.

Rock and Fluid Properties Lab

The BP Rock and Fluids Laboratory, made possible by an $800,000 gift from BP, will provide the key laboratory experience for junior level undergraduates in petroleum engineering. The laboratory will house equipment to cut rock cores and measure their properties, including porosity and permeability. It will also house property necessary to measure fluid properties and phase behavior of reservoir fluids. Laboratory space necessary to house this facility will require renovation to provide a modern undergraduate laboratory environment. The current estimate of the cost for equipment and renovation is $1 million. The funds that remain from the BP gift and the State matching dollars will be designated to the development of one of our other laboratories that support the undergraduate program in petroleum engineering.

Animal Science – Molecular Biology Addition

The original AS/MB Building was conceived with a third wing to the north to give a T shaped building. This would have allowed all of the AS and MB faculty to be housed in the one building. The cost of the building led to the deletion of that wing and our current problems. It was to be off the north wall of the lobby. It was two stories high with laboratories on both floors. On the bottom floor at the far end was a small animal housing facility and on the top floor a common equipment room. It was planned to be large enough for at least eight research laboratories and the offices to go with them. The laboratories and offices, estimated to be around 16,000 square feet, can be configured in the most appropriate way and not necessarily like the current ones.

Wyoming State Veterinary Lab (WSVL) Improvements

This project consists of two parts:

1. Build a foyer and reception area on the north side of the WSVL, where the main office is now. The accrediting review team strongly recommends this security measure. It will bring clients directly into the front office, leaving the west entrance for the analytical chemistry laboratory.
2. Add a delivery room outside of and connected to the necropsy lab. This addition would allow FedEx and U.S. Mail deliveries when the necropsy lab is closed for "hot" necropsies. The new room will be on the west side of the building.

Art Museum Expansion

Operating out of a single office and a 700 square foot classroom, the Art Museum's education program enlists more than 30 paid staff (1-1/2 FTE), contract museum- and artist-educators (6), and volunteers (29 docents, 2-3 interns) to engage young and old alike in meaningful museum experiences. With growing demand and use, the physical space for this program is in dire need of expansion. The proposed addition to the Centennial Complex would include education offices, a docent room, a resource center, and an additional classroom. The cost estimate is unknown.

Education Annex Completion

The College of Education is in the third year of a multi-year renovation of the Education Annex, north of the main Education building, to house an advanced instructional facility. We anticipate an increase in the ultimate costs of this project totaling nearly $2 million, mainly attributable to construction cost increases and design modifications.

Center for Excellence in Engineering Education and Interdisciplinary Center for Engineering Design and Teaching

Since 1999 the College of Engineering has been looking for space for a modern Interdisciplinary Center for Engineering Design and Teaching (ICED-T) for use in teaching design. The college has also proposed a Center for Excellence in Engineering Education (CEEE), currently funded with over $1 million from the William and Flora Hewlett Foundation. With the acquisition of space (from English) on the second floor of the west wing of Engineering, resulting from the Health Sciences move, the college is now in a position to move forward with the plan for CEEE and ICED-T. The estimated cost is roughly $1 million.

Fine Arts Building

This project involves (a) the construction of a new facility to house offices, studios, and instructional space in the visual arts and (b) remodeling of the existing Fine Arts Building to accommodate its dedication to the performing arts. The new facility would relieve long-standing space constraints in the fine arts, eliminating the need to use the old barracks located between the Fine Arts Building and Willett Drive. Current estimates of the cost vary and are quite high. The table lists $40 million as an estimate of the achievable level of funding.

Moot Courtroom Expansion and Renovation, College of Law

The moot courtroom was constructed nearly 30 years ago and has outlived its usefulness and need to be remodeled and updated to provide faculty, students and professionals the best teaching and learning opportunities in the courtroom. The multi-dimensional nature of the project will provide a modern courtroom, but it also will provide substantial enhancements for regular classroom instruction and allow an auditorium space for Supreme Court proceedings and guest speakers. Additionally, the use of an updated courtroom by attorneys and judges will allow students to build relationships with legal professionals from around the state and nation. The estimated cost is $4 million.

NCAR Facilities in Cheyenne

The National Center for Atmospheric Research (NCAR) plans to move its supercomputer facilities from Boulder in the next two years. Because of its access to electric power and the possibility of collaborations with UW faculty members, Cheyenne is one of the sites being considered. As part of Cheyenne's bid to host the facility, the State Treasurer has offered to float bonds to cover 75 percent of the estimated $70 million construction cost. The Wyoming Business Council, the Governor's office, Cheyenne LEADS, and UW have also been involved in the discussions. NCAR has asked whether it is possible to use funds from the academic facilities match, matched with a gift, in return for academic use of the facilities, supercomputing time, and collaborative arrangements in the computational geosciences. These facilities, access, and collaborative arrangements are consistent with the 2004 Academic Plan's identification of computational science and earth and energy science as critical areas of science and technology for UW. The project would support computationally oriented teaching and research in the School of Energy Resources, computational fluid dynamics, geophysical modeling, robotics, and computational materials science. Use of matching funds would require UW and NCAR to identify a qualified donor to provide the matchable amount. NCAR anticipates selecting the site before the end of June 2006.

UWCC Building in Casper

The University of Wyoming Casper College Center (UWCC) has administrative and faculty offices and classrooms scattered across five buildings on the Casper College campus (approximately 12,000 square feet used by UWCC) and at the UW Outreach Building, four miles across Casper (approximately 18,500 square feet). A single classroom and office building would consolidate the different facilities, expand severely cramped administrative offices (950 square feet for 5 staff, files, student service area, and the associate dean), provide a center for UWCC students, act as a center for Outreach in the state, make UW very visible in Casper, and respond to Casper College's desire to regain classroom and office space currently given rent-free to UWCC. Casper College's new campus master plan includes a four-story building, located in the heart of the academic core of the campus, to be shared by Casper College and UWCC, with UWCC controlling the top two stories of the building. The projected size of the building is 40,000 square feet, with approximately half allocated to UWCC. The projected cost of building in 2006 dollars is $20.8m, with UWCC responsible for half of the cost.

School of Energy Resources Laboratory Facility

The main purpose of this facility will be to house engineering, geophysics, and computational laboratories associated with the School of Energy Resources. A rough estimate of the facility cost is $10 million (25,000 net square feet \times $400 per net square foot). The re-introduction of the petroleum engineering program will add new faculty positions, each of which will need research laboratories. The university also expects to add additional faculty and graduate students in support of the School of Energy Resources.

School of Energy Resources Office Facility

The main purpose of this facility will be to house offices and meeting space associated with the School of Energy Resources. A rough estimate of the facility cost is $40 million. The facility will house the director's office, the Center for Energy Outreach, the Academic Coordinator, and faculty members who hold significant appointments in the school.

Dear Wyoming Legislator,

I am very pleased to report on the progress we have made over the course of the last year on the University of Wyoming Athletics Strategic Plan. We have moved forward with a number of facility projects and are off to a good start in raising money against the new $6 million match for athletic facilities that you so generously approved during the last legislative session. Thank you again for your investment in UW with the appropriation of both the facility and endowment matching funds.

As you know we exhausted the initial state match of $10 million in just over 16 months. Against the new $6 million matching fund, I am happy to report that over $2.6 million has been raised to date leaving a balance of approximately $3.4 million. In combining private gifts with the state match we have accumulated more than $25 million in pledges toward our ultimate goal of $32 million.

Currently our construction progress is as follows:

Facility	*Estimated Cost	Progress
1. War Memorial Stadium enhancements (turf, concessions/Restrooms, Pressbox, VIP seating/Suites, parking lot, etc.)	$ 14.8 mil.	Upper East/West completed
2. New Outdoor Track	$ 1.2 mil.	Completed
3. New Indoor Tennis Courts	$ 2 mil.	Not Started
4. New Indoor Practice Facility	$ 11.5 mil.	Planning/construction underway-completion summer 2007
5. Artificial Turf	$ 1 mil.	Completed
Total	$ 30.5 mil.

September 21, 2006

Page Two

This fall the facilities planning team will begin the design process for the lower east/west stadium concourse. In addition, it is anticipated progress will be made on the indoor tennis facility. Total project costs on all of these facilities are higher than originally projected in 2003 as a result of increased construction costs within Wyoming and the fact that these facilities had not been through the final design process at that time. We have attempted to account for inflation and the current Wyoming construction climate on all projects not yet complete.

The Department of Intercollegiate Athletics cannot thank you enough for your support through the state matching program. It has been an overwhelming success.

I would welcome the opportunity to provide you with a personal tour of any or all of our facilities.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in cursive script that reads "Barbara A. Burke".

Leading by Example

Exceptional Donors in FY 2006

The following contributors made significant gifts in fiscal 2006, each of which were matched by the state of Wyoming through its matching gift program for athletics facilities.

David Cronk

Former UW football player, David Cronk committed $1 million (doubled to $2 million through the state match) to UW Athletics. David attended UW during the late 1950's and the early 60's, earning letters in 1960 & 1961. He obtained a B.S. degree in physical education from UW in 1965. Originally from Michigan, David was recruited to play football at UW by hall of fame coach, Bob Devaney.

David credits his success at UW to a number of former UW coaches and has made this significant gift in their honor. The coaches include Coach Bob Devaney, Coach Jim Ross, Coach Lloyd Eaton, and Coach Paul Roach. David has named Paul Roach as the key point person to designate how his gift and matching funds will be used.

Tad and Ann Herz

UW alumni, Tad and Ann Herz of Denver, Colorado, gifted $25,000 (doubled to $50,000 through the state match) to the UW Athletics Facilities Campaign. The couple along with their two sons are very passionate about Wyoming Athletics. Big Wyoming Cowboy fans, they rarely miss a home football game. The couple earned their degrees in 1985 from UW. Tad is currently employed with Cordillera Energy Partners.

Frank and Cecilia Bellinghiere

Wyoming Cowboy fans, Frank and Cecilia Bellinghiere of Jackson, Wyoming committed $25,000 (doubled to $50,000 through the state match) to the Athletic Facilities Campaign. The couple along with their three sons make the drive from Jackson to Laramie to watch the Wyoming Cowboy football games on a regular basis and from time to time travel with the Pokes to away games. Their son, Ross, is a freshman at UW. Frank attended in UW in 1983 and is a graduate of the College of Law. Frank practices law in Jackson and Cecilia works at the Law Offices of Frank Bellinghiere.

Matching Fund
September 13, 2003 to September 20, 2006

Status of $73 Million Matching Endowment Fund March 1, 2001 - September 20, 2006

Leading by Example

Exceptional Donors in FY 2006

The following contributors made significant gifts in fiscal 2006, each of which were matched by the UW Endowment Challenge Program.

G. Russell Mortenson

Commemorating his parents, G. Russell Mortenson established a $50,000 (doubled to $100,000 through the state match) entrepreneurship endowment in their name. The Bud and Bing Mortenson Entrepreneurship Endowment supports the UW College of Business internships for students or graduate students pursuing an MBA or an M.S. degree in accounting or finance, or other related graduate degrees. Preference will be given to Wyoming native students who plan to intern within the Wyoming Technology Business Center (WTBC) to practice their skills while assisting WTBC clients on topics such as business plan development, financing, and marketing research. Should internship opportunities not be available with incubator clients; students selected for the Bud & Bing Mortenson Entrepreneurship Internships may work directly with other small businesses or start-up companies in Wyoming.

The internship funds will be available to supplement student stipends during the internship, to pay UW tuition and fees during the internship, or to provide living and travel expenses associated with the internship experience.

The first recipient of the Bud and Bing Mortenson Internship is MBA student, Ryan Ford from Cheyenne, Wyoming.

Thomas and Cheryl O'Leary

Thanks to a significant gift of $250,000, matched by the Wyoming State Legislature, from Mr. Thomas O'Leary of Saratoga, Wyoming, the faculty and staff of the American Heritage Center have been given the resources needed to reach new heights.

Mr. O'Leary established the "Fund for Faculty Excellence," endowment, which will allow faculty and staff to take on expanded leadership roles. It will also foster greater innovation and enhanced partnerships in the archival and rare books fields.

Also, as part of the generous gift and in further support of educators, Mr. O'Leary has endowed the AHC's Teaching & Research Grants Program. This program allows the AHC to offer grants to faculty, staff, and students at the University of Wyoming to pursue projects such as independent or collaborative research projects, course development, and symposia that use the AHC's collections. This program is fostering many important research projects within the university community by talented faculty members and students.

Nick and Maggie Murdock

Nick and Maggie Murdock of Casper gifted $255,000 to UW (doubled to $510,000 through the state match). The gift will benefit many areas on campus, including the Lisa Lewis Dubois Student Exhibition Award, and the Ann Simpson and Family Student Exhibition Award. The two awards are granted annually to UW student winners of the UW Art Museum Annual Juried Student Exhibition, a collection of UW student art work displayed in the UW Art Museum. It will also support the Casper Art Fund, which will allow for advancement of the UW Art Museum.

The Honorable Joseph F. Maier Beyond the Classroom Fund will also reap benefits from the generous gift. The fund was established in memory of the Honorable Joseph F. Maier of Sheridan, who graduated from the College of Law in 1947. It will provide additional funding for UW law students to attend seminars, conferences and other events.

The Murdock Family Public Radio Fund, Outreach Fund, and Political Science Fund, also supported by the Murdock gift, will provide advancement of Wyoming Public Radio, funds for Outreach students to attend seminars, conferences, and other events, and advancement of the Political Science Department, which will also allow students to attend seminars, conference, and events.
