| Call Title:          | U.S. EXPERT CONSULTATIONS FOR NEWSROOMS   |
| Programme:           | U.S. Mission to Kazakhstan  |
| Objective:           | The U.S. Mission to Kazakhstan’s Public Diplomacy Section invites proposals for programs aimed at strengthening the capacity of Kazakh media organizations. Kazakhstan’s media sector is navigating an important phase of growth and modernization as it adapts to global changes in technology, storytelling, and audience engagement. While local media outlets have made progress, many continue to face challenges in fully adopting innovative tools and practices needed to meet the expectations of a growing digital audience. As news consumption increasingly shifts from traditional platforms to digital, social, and mobile-based media, the demand for modern, high-quality journalism has never been greater. |
| Eligible Activities: | To remain competitive and relevant, newsrooms—whether traditional, digital-native, hybrid, or radio-based—require expertise in areas such as immersive journalism, advanced storytelling techniques, data-driven decision-making, and audience engagement strategies. For radio newsrooms in particular, digital archiving solutions are essential for enhancing accessibility and expanding reach. Embracing digital tools and strategies is crucial for expanding outlets’ reach and impact in a rapidly evolving media landscape.   |

| Programme: LEGO Foundation &amp; Grand Challenges Canada |  |
| Objective:   | Grand Challenges Canada is launching a new portfolio, Play Learn Thrive, to respond to gaps in current Early Childhood Development in Emergencies (ECDiE) and Education in Emergencies (EiE) approaches. They aim to create strong support systems for children in complex crisis settings so that they can play, learn, and thrive. They recognize that children’s holistic development, including their physical, intellectual, psychological, cultural, and social wellbeing, is intrinsically linked to the wellbeing and capacity of their caregivers and educators, as well as other members of their community. Strengthening this support network is essential to fostering children’s growth and development. |
| Eligible Activities:                                     | Supported by The Lego Foundation, this funding call seeks solutions that create more robust support systems for children from birth to 12 years of age in complex crisis settings, with a focus on those who are left behind and whose developmental and educational needs are not being met.Actions must take place in Jordan, Lebanon, Kenya, Uganda.  |
