

BIOLOGICAL CONTROL

Parasitoids are type of biological control agent. A parasitoid's larval development occurs on or in a host, ultimately leading to its death. The catalpa sphinx caterpillar in the photo was killed by parasitic wasps.

IPM