

CULTURAL CONTROL

Properly pruned, spaced, and staked plants encourage airflow through the canopy, which promotes faster drying of leaves and fewer bacterial and fungal infections. Properly pruned fruit trees produces larger, healthier fruit. The removal of dead, diseased branches discourages overwintering pests.

IPM