

HLED 5024, 3 credits
Increasing Support for Public Health Projects
Online, asynchronous

Learn how to effectively build support for improving the health of your community. Support includes funding, coalition and partnership building, effective communications with the public and policy makers, and participatory project planning with community stakeholders. In addition, this course will cover how to establish project evaluation frameworks.

This is a graduate level course. High performing undergraduates are welcome and encouraged to register after discussing the option with their academic advisors.

This is a required course for the UW
Graduate Certificate in Community & Public Health.