Public health training helps us organize the chaos of health crises.

Using practical exercises and problem based learning, you will investigate how social structures shape our health and how to alter them to improve community health. This course is open to graduate students of any major and undergraduates with at least a 3.2 GPA and permission from the instructor.

Asynchronous online instruction. Work on the course on your schedule.

Instructor: Dr. Alisa Sicheloff asicelof@uwyo.edu
