

I love the guys who are “attached to the glee” in your line 2 – how nice to find some fun-loving people in this otherwise arid, puritan desert of legislation! However, I have to say that S.P.Scott was not translating the Schoell-Kroll text that Blume has otherwise had in front of him.

I’m reluctant to attach my version, because it contains things I need Peter Sarris to explain, but I’ll send it on once he’s vetted it, if you like. Maybe that other one I attached should wait till then, as well.
