

Book II.
Title XLIX (L).

After restitution of rights has been asked, nothing new shall be done.

2.49.1. Emperor Gordian to Secundinus, soldier.

It is plain law that after restitution of rights has been asked, everything should remain in status quo till the case is settled, and he under whose care the matter belongs¹ shall see to this.

Promulgated June 20 (239).
