

Book III.
Title V.

No one shall be judge in his own cause.
(Ne quis in sua causa judicet vel sibi jus dicat.)

Bas. 7.3.32.

3.5.1. Emperors Valens, Gratian and Valentinian to Grachus, City Prefect.

We direct by this general law that no one shall be his own judge or decide his own case. For to give anyone power to render a decision in his own case would be iniquitous. Read December 1 (376).
