The Jane Austen Club

Dear sis/madame,

I am informed at a great distance that you have convened a group to read and appreciate my works. Though placed now in a situation where such flattery no longer excites me as once it did, I nevertheless encourage you and your young people in these endeavours, welcome them, and subscribe myself,

Yr. humble servant

J.A.

All are welcome at our first meeting, Tuesday, September 15th, 8:30 pm in Classroom Building room 103, during an intermission in the showing of “She Stoops to Conquer,” by Oliver Goldsmith, which begins at 7:00 pm.
