Besides the unrivaled training and experience, there’s a great benefits package waiting for you as an Officer:

- One-time sign-on bonus (amounts vary by specialty) speak to a recruiter for specifics amount offered for your specialty.
- Benefit from supplemental income (the equivalent of 4 days' pay for only 16 hours worked each drill weekend and two weeks of paid training each year).
- A Student Loan Repayment Program (LRP) 40K/Year 210K max.
- Periodic promotions based on performance and longevity.
- Advanced educational opportunities and continuing education funding.

To qualify for Reserve Duty employment consideration in the Navy Nurse Corps, you must:

- As a Nurse Corps Officer, you must have, and maintain, a license to practice as a Professional Registered Nurse from a state, territory, or the District of Columbia, based on a licensing examination (NCLEX-RN) provided by the National Council of State Boards of Nursing.
- Be a U.S. citizen
- Be in good physical condition and pass a full medical examination.

Reserve Officers serve part-time:

Serving part-time as a Reservist, your duties will be carried out during your scheduled training periods. During monthly drilling, nurses in the Navy Reserve typically work at a location close to their homes. This gives you the flexibility to expand your experience in the Navy while enhancing your civilian career at home. For the yearly annual training, Nurses may serve anywhere in the world, whether at sea, or in Naval hospitals abroad or stateside.

The Navy Reserve offers a truly diverse variety of academic, clinical and operational settings in which to practice – and an unrivaled sense of pride and fulfillment in knowing that you truly make a difference.

Job Description

1. Nurses:
   - Nurses in the Nurse Corps are responsible for delivering top medical care to the men and women of the Navy, Navy Reserve, and Marine Corps, as well as their families. Practicing in hospitals and clinics, aboard Navy ships worldwide, and in support of Marine Corps and Navy Construction Battalion personnel during operational training exercises, they use some of the most advanced technology in medicine.

2. Direct Appointment
   - Qualified healthcare professionals may be directly appointed as commissioned officers in the Navy Reserve and immediately find themselves working in an elite medical community with renowned colleagues in almost every discipline.

How to Apply:
To apply or if you just have questions, contact ANY MEMBER of our Medical Recruiting Team:

Talent Acquisition and Onboarding Center Denver
621 17th Str.
Denver, CO 80293

HMC Maria Rust
Cell: 303-656-1454
maria.e.rust@navy.mil