

Greetings from the University of Wyoming Experiential Education Office! We hope your summer is off to a great start and each of you are able to experience some fun and relaxation over the next couple of months.

In this quarter's issue of the PRN, we are focusing on one of our two outstanding Preceptor of the Year award recipients for the 2021-2022 academic year. Each year we solicit nominations from both our P2 and P4 rotation students for preceptors who have made a difference in their lives. The two preceptors selected for this prestigious honor for the last academic year were Dr. Sammy Ihunwaeze and Dr. Lesley Liebig.

Sammy Ihunwaeze:

We would like to introduce you to Dr. Sammy Ihunwaeze who is a preceptor at North Suburban Medical Center (NSMC) in Thornton, CO. He was presented with his Preceptor of the Year award at this year's P4 Convocation ceremony in Laramie, WY in May. Sammy took time recently to talk about his journey to becoming a pharmacist and preceptor which started with his moving from his native country, Nigeria, to the United States in April 2004. It then led to his graduating from the University of Wyoming School of Pharmacy in 2014, and then to his current position at NSMC as an Advanced Clinical Pharmacist. Sammy shares his love for teaching in the hospital setting with the assistance of his fantastic team at NSMC and offers his insight and advice for providing a positive and unique learning experience for his students. We look forward to introducing you to Dr. Liebig in an upcoming issue of the PRN. Our hope is that in reading about our outstanding preceptors, you will discover ways you can implement some of their successful strategies for educating future pharmacists. Another free educational resource available to you as a preceptor for the University of Wyoming School of Pharmacy is through CEImpact. We encourage preceptors to take a look at the educational course titled, “Tools to Facilitate Student Success with Your Learning Experience”. In this one hour course, preceptors will learn and apply simple quality improvement techniques to maintain and enhance their learning experience. This course will be particularly helpful for preceptors who would like to learn how to create an appropriate amount of structure for their students within their educational experiences.

To access CEImpact CE, follow the steps below:
