

PHIL 3340/ENGL 3340: Philosophy in Literature:

Utopia/Dystopia

Harvey Hix

MWF 12 - 12:50
AG 2018

What will the future bring? What social/political conditions will I face? What natural/environmental conditions? You and I are not the only people who have ever tried to imagine a future and prepare ourselves for it. In this course, we will read and reflect on several notable utopias or dystopias, some “philosophical” and some “literary,” toward the aim of refining our own future imagining and present decision-making.
