

2025 Bitcoin Student Research Prize

Applications now open!

Become a legend in the Bitcoin industry by earning one of the first ever Bitcoin student research prizes!!

Binghamton University's Bitcoin Lab and the University of Wyoming's Bitcoin Research Institute are excited to announce this pioneering, collaborative initiative to advance and recognize the exceptional, cross-disciplinary Bitcoin research being done by university students everywhere, including on our two respective campuses.

The 2025 Bitcoin student research prizes are for research completed in Summer 2025 and will be awarded to the students who have demonstrated original contributions to the field of Bitcoin Studies.

Up to two prizes of .01 BTC may be awarded + other potential awards.

To apply, send, via your university email address, 1) a detailed report of your completed Bitcoin research along with 2) an executive summary of your research findings and 3) a short statement on why Bitcoin is important in your field(s) of study to mkelly@binghamton.edu AND rettlerb@gmail.com. Deadline is September 30th, 2025. Finalists may be asked for further supporting materials.
