

2025 Harlow Summer Seminars and Special Events

Thursdays, 5:30 pm BBQ followed by seminar at 6:30, $10 suggested donation

Visit our website (uwnps.org) for more information on seminars and to join our mailing list.

Events are open to the public – reservations not required.

- June 26 The Mountain States Bumble Bee Atlas: A Collaborative Effort to Conserve Bumble Bees Through Community Scientist Observations
Michelle Toshack, Endangered Species Conservation Biologist with Xerces Society
- July 3 Why are butterflies declining? A look at monarchs and the insect apocalypse
Elise Zipkin, Red Cedar Distinguished Professor in the Department of Integrative Biology at Michigan State University
- July 10 The Wonder of Water, Wildlife, and Habitat in Grand Teton National Park
Yvette Converse, Chief of Science and Resource Management in Grand Teton National Park
- July 17 The Superior Deer: Learning from the longest migration in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem
Gregory Nickerson, Writer and Filmmaker with the Wyoming Migration Initiative at the University of Wyoming
- July 24 Old Faithful Anatomy: Magma Fueling Yellowstone Hydrothermal System, Earthquakes And New Images Of The 2024 July, Biscuit Basin Hydrothermal Explosion
Robert (Bob) Smith, Distinguished Professor in the Department of Geology and Geophysics at the University of Utah and Jamie Farrell, Research Professor at the University of Utah Seismograph Stations
- July 31 Grand Teton Forest Dynamics Plot: Monitoring local forest health and contributing to the Smithsonian Forest Global Earth Observatory
Sara Germain, Assistant Professor in the Department of Botany at the University of Wyoming
Tucker Furniss, Assistant Professor in the Department of Ecosystem Science and Management at the University of Wyoming
- August 7 The Wyoming Festival: New Music in the Mountains - Chamber Music Concert
Fresh chamber music inspired by the history, culture, nature, and science of the GYE
Dr. Anne Guzzo, Director, founder and participating composer at The Wyoming Festival
Holly Mulcahy, violin and music director at The Wyoming Festival
With performers from the Grand Teton Festival Orchestra

Driving directions: Turn right when entering Leek's Marina parking lot in Grand Teton National Park.
Can't attend in person? Subscribe to our mailing list to join us on Zoom! <https://uwnps.org/mailling-list/>