

STEWART FAMILY DISTINGUISHED LECTURE IN PUBLIC SERVICE:

Volunteerism, the Administrative State, and Public Service in the Next Generation: Possibilities and Future Prospects

Dr. Jessica Sowa

Senior Faculty Fellow and Professor in the Joseph R. Biden, Jr. School of Public Policy and Administration at the University of Delaware

Professor Jessica Sowa's research focuses on public and nonprofit management, with an emphasis on the management of human resources in government and nonprofit organizations, organizational effectiveness, and collaboration. She is a widely published award-winning author and editor of multiple books. In 2024, she was selected as a National Academy of Public Administration Fellow.

Sowa received her Ph.D. in Public Administration from the Maxwell School of Citizenship and Public Affairs at Syracuse University.

How can you impact public policy? Join us for a discussion on the impacts of volunteerism in government and the future of public service.
