

WYCOA DEMENTIA CARE CERTIFICATE

Caring for those living with Alzheimer's Disease or a related dementia can be challenging work and requires the use of skills and techniques designed to safely support these individuals. The need for professionals with expertise in dementia care is growing rapidly as the prevalence of dementia continues to increase worldwide. In response, the Wyoming Center on Aging (WyCOA) is offering a Dementia Care Certificate for healthcare professionals working with individuals with dementia. The certificate is an online self-paced program designed to fit within the healthcare professional's busy schedule. The modules are previously recorded WyCOA workshops, online trainings, and webinars from experts in their field. Further, modules developed by the Health Resources and Services Administration are included to provide a standardized dementia foundation.
