

WYCOA DEMENTIA CARE CERTIFICATE

Caring for those living with Alzheimer's Disease or a related dementia can be challenging work and requires the use of skills and techniques designed to safely support these individuals. The need for professionals with expertise in dementia care is growing rapidly as the prevalence of dementia continues to increase worldwide. In response, the University of Wyoming is offering a Dementia Care Certificate for healthcare professionals working with individuals with dementia. The certificate is an online self-paced program designed to fit within the healthcare professional's busy schedule. The modules are previously recorded WyGEC/WyCOA workshops, online trainings, and webinars that were taught by experts in their field.

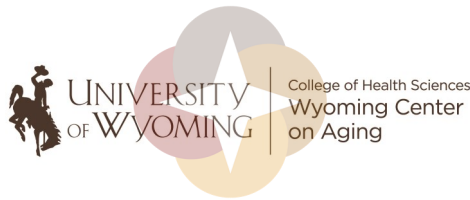

The WyCOA Dementia Care Certificate is a convenient, easily assessable program that recognizes individuals for learning quality dementia care practices and knowledge.

Funding from the Health Resource Service Administration will allow the certificate to be offered free of charge for those completed BY JUNE 30th, 2019

Professional Continuing Education credits available
Earn up to:

22 CE credits in the Advanced Course
20.5 CE credits in the Intro Course

WyCOA can provide a Certificate of Completion for self-reporting.

Our Mission:

The mission of the Wyoming Center on Aging is to optimize the health of Wyoming's older adults and their caregivers through education, intervention, collaboration, and research.
